

REVEAL GERMANS AS RINGLEADERS IN RED PLOT AGAINST THE U. S.

Department of Justice Has Proof Against Teuton Trouble Makers.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Germans, if not Germany, are among the ringleaders of the Red movement in the United States and allied countries. Proof of this is in the hands of Department of Justice officials here.

In France, during the July labor troubles, the charge was made that German money was to a large extent responsible. The idea, it was said, was to bring about a revolution, if possible, and failing that, to cripple France industrially so as to allow Germany to get the lead in business following the war.

The question in many minds here is: Just how widespread are these machinations, and to what extent are German influences fomenting revolution in allied lands with the same idea in mind?

The moving spirit in the Communist International held in Moscow, Russia, last March, were a Prussian and a German. Lenin and Trotsky, major officials here are convinced were money cats. Fritz Platten, known as the super-Bohemia, and at the same time one of General Ludendorff's most trusted agents, was the Prussian in the case. A more dangerous conspirator, secret service man declare, is not to be found anywhere.

The German was none other than Dr. Albert, the Kaiser's paymaster in the United States during the days when strikes, and more serious troubles with indications to revolution, and the overthrow of the American government. That Germany would profit immensely through revolutions in America, England and France is admitted.

SEEKS TO STAVE DEBT.

If the allied governments retain their present power, it is pointed out that nothing can save Germany from having to pay the war debt brought upon her.

On the other hand, should the coalition of chaos, civil war and revolution be brought about in allied countries as now paralyzes Russia, Germany would at once find herself holding an advantage over her former enemy and the warring of the three main nations would come to an end.

The allies would in fact be forced to restore the treaty of Versailles and, at the same time, their position would be so tied up by strikes and other disorders that Germany, already working from ten to fourteen hours a day at reconstruc-

U. S. Agents on Track of Sugar Pirates in Nation-Wide Campaign

Washington, Jan. 6.—The Department of Justice within the next three days will launch a nation-wide campaign against profiteers who are responsible for the high cost of living. (Previously the entire personnel of the bureau of investigation which has been released by the general clean-up of the Reds will be used to make arrests of dealers who are charging excessive prices.)

Dealers both wholesale and retail who are profiteering in the sale of sugar will be the first to be taken into custody. It is learned that these dealers have been using the author- ized high price of Louisiana sugar to camouflage their dealings in Cuban and beet sugar, which should sell for at least 6 cents a pound.

START IN WASHINGTON.

The campaign of the department will begin in Washington, where a corps of department agents will begin work before the end of the week, rounding up sugar profiteers. The investigators, following the completion of local raids, will be sent to Philadelphia, New York and other large cities where they will be organized as a nucleus to build up permanent organizations of investigators, who will carry on the work against profiteers.

Howard E. Figg, special assistant to the attorney-general in charge of the department campaign, said today that the work would be sure to have nationwide results.

"Dealers who are to be arrested cannot claim that they were not informed of the situation," he said. "The newspapers have explained the situation fully. Wholesalers and retailers both know what constitutes the fair margin of profit, which the law allows."

"We are now inaugurating an active campaign of arrests and prosecutions and will see it through to a finish."

For each people who complain about the cost of living would give the department their assistance in reporting each case of profiteering, we would be able to break up the situation. We must have the co-operation of the public."

Figg stated that investigators familiar with the workings of the clothing and other businesses would be used in making arrests of dealer profiteers in Washington.

NATION-WIDE DRIVE.

Through State and county fair trade organizations the campaign which will begin this week will extend into every nook and corner of the country. The first action was received special instructions within the department of Justice agents who make arrests.

All details of the plan to bring profiteers into court have been completed, and results are expected in the department immediately.

With the Cuban sugar case amounting to approximately four million dollars, new moving into this country there shortly will be an end of the situation in the department of Justice to end profiteering.

Consumers who pay about 18 to 20 cents a pound for sugar should report transactions to their fair price commission for action.

Officials said today that they expected a decline in the price of sugar as soon as the department campaign is well under way and that a corresponding decrease would follow in other lines of necessities.

FINE LAWRENCE MAN $100 FOR CARRYING REVOLVER.

Lawrence, Jan. 6.—On the charge of carrying a loaded revolver Frank Lawrence was fined $100 by Judge J. J. Mahoney in the District Court here. It was alleged that Lawrence and a friend were having an argument in the course of which Lawrence discharged two chambers of the revolver, bringing bullet hitting their intended mark. The police were attracted to the house by the sound of the shots, and entering found the man with a revolver in his hand.

War Office, where he remains, endeavoring to maintain some kind of an organization in the face of the revolution.

"Vienna, that beautiful city," said Mr. Haid, "is dying. The cafes are more than at any time during the war and are getting worse every day. The peasants refuse to sell food to the townsfolk for money because they won't buy anything. The only way to stay necessities is by trading clothes or fabrics."

CHILDREN DYING.

"Everyone is starving, there is hardly any food. The rich send their servants to the markets, and the servants often spend a whole morning and come back with nothing. There are days at a time when even the wealthy residents have nothing to eat, and children are dying like flies. Everyone is leaving who can get away. The peasants who will have cows feed their milk to swine rather than sell it to the Vienna for money."

"The strikes, riots, robberies and killings are terrible. My husband is doing his best to help the government, but there is no encouragement. The people are nothing to look forward to. Buildings are unheated; there are no lights and no heat in the evening."

"The Hungarians and the Slovaks, whom the Viennese have depended on for wheat, corn, etc., are now in Vienna, and are not to be trusted. They are everywhere with their people and are eating everyone's digestive tractors."

Mrs. Haid explained that she wanted to come home by way of France, but that she was not allowed to cross the border. In Italy she had no difficulty, but the journey from Vienna to Rome with her two little children in an unheated train, took sixty hours. Roma, she characterized as a "bloody-bathery town." He is now in Rome, but she is not sure if he will be able to return to release him to the Hungarians. She declared, in a point of fact between the two countries.

Mrs. Haid said she would make an indefinite stay in the United States.

THE RED BIBLE.

The Communist manifesto signed by Rakovsky, Lenin, Trotsky, Zinoviev and Fritz Platten at Moscow has been translated into this country, and copies of it were seized in vast quantities by Federal agents in New York.

MORE RAIDS, PALMER HINTS.

"It's all over until the next time," Attorney-General Palmer today, in commenting on the Red raids, said that there would be more raids and that the Department of Justice was not satisfied with the success in breaking up the Communist and Communist labor parties.

Any further party will be considered sufficient basis for the deportation of allies, the Attorney-General said. "Both parties openly preach anarchy," he charged.

A large majority of the aliens ordered deported will be taken to New York City, where they will be held in the Federal House of Detention.

Commissioner-General of Immigration Cammeltt today announced that the large number of cases presented within the last thirty days have overwhelmed the Immigration Department.

Each case will be considered in the district in which it has arisen and the Federal House of Detention will be transmitted to the department at Washington for further action.

Commissioner Cammeltt announced that no deportations would be made until it had been learned what measures the Bureau, the first "Soviet Arch" has met with.

DENIES ASKING FOR CAMP.

Commissioner Cammeltt today issued the following statement:

"The Department of Labor has not asked for the use of any military camp any place in the United States for the detention of any alien who is deportable. In cases where alien is held for deportation in cases arising under the anarchy provisions of the immigration law."

"In the former, it is believed that the Federal House of Detention at Ellis Island station in New York City is the place where the alien should be held pending the examination of the case."

"The Department of Labor is well provided for all immigration cases as well as the cases mentioned. There is no need of opening an additional station, as the Department of Labor is well equipped to handle the cases."

CHARLES WAS SUICIDE

Keene, N. H., Jan. 6.—A sensation which has a bearing on the Dean murder case was caused today throughout Cheshire county, when it was learned that a suit for $15,000 damages had been brought in the United States District Court at Boston against County Solicitor Roy M. Fickard and his law partner, J. E. Benton of this city.

The suit was entered yesterday. The plaintiff is Mrs. Emogene H. Ball, owner of the Humphrey Machine Foundry, of Keene, who alleges that County Solicitor Fickard and Attorney Benton brought a "titious" law suit against her for $10,000 damages on behalf of Ellis P. Ball, an employee of the foundry, who claimed to have been injured.

Mrs. Ball was this suit and immediately entered action against Fickard and Benton. Back of the litigation are allegations which the selection of Justice claim prove their contention that it is futile to repeat the Dean murder case in Cheshire County, owing to the attitude and alleged methods of the county ring.

SETTLED RIVAL COUNSEL.
Mrs. Ball's suit against Fickard and Benton had on trial a week when it was withdrawn on the charge of Mrs. Ball's counsel that there was a miscarriage of justice. Her attorneys were forced to change the venue and brought suit in Massachusetts.

County Solicitor Fickard and Attorney Benton, acting as counsel for their own behalf, petitioned for a restraining order, but in spite of this, counsel Mrs. Ball succeeded in obtaining Fickard and Benton, and entered the suit in the Federal Court at Boston.

Mr. Thomas L. Walsh, brother of United States Senator David L. Walsh, and George H. Hersey of Keene, were counsel for Mrs. Ball at the trial in New Hampshire.

The case was taken from the jury in New Hampshire because of the pressure of one of the jurors, a innkeeper employed by the hotel in which the case was being tried, who said that he was going back to the hotel.

This remark was reported to Major Walsh of counsel. Mrs. Ball's attorneys were taken from the jury just when the case was about to be started. Immediately Fickard and Benton moved to prevent a change of venue, but their lawyers were too smart for them.

NEW CASE REVENGED.
They heard Fickard and Benton were going to Boston together recently and process servers were on the job. It is reported that Fickard tried to run away from the process server but that he was caught and arrested but that he was not taken to court.

The developments were kept secret until today when they were made public by Boston American representatives who have been investigating the Dean murder case.

The suit caused widespread amusement today all over the county. Mrs. Ball claims that County Solicitor Fickard and Attorney Benton, who have been investigating the Dean murder case, have been causing her trouble and without probable cause.

THE RANKS OF BOTH CAPITAL AND LABOR

THE RANKS OF BOTH CAPITAL AND LABOR

By RAY STANNARD BAKER.
Copyright, 1920, by R. S. B. B. Baker.

In two former articles I endeavored to exhibit the present industrial situation in America as it looks, first from above to the man who pays the wages, and, second, from below, to the men who receive them. We may now inquire into the causes of this unrest, again using the typicity of Gary, Indiana, as the explanatory illustration.

We are fortunate in having the Indiana made very clear for us, in this case, by the leaders upon both sides of the controversy.

INDUSTRIAL POSITION ELEMENT.
Judge Gary talks with conviction that the great majority of his workmen are strike and so on, but that they were lured and intimidated by "outside agitators" and "revolutionaries." He says that these elements were largely instrumental in causing the trouble.

"You think," says Senator Kenyon, the investigation, "that this foreign element, precipitating the strike, do you not?"

OUTSIDE-OR INSIDE?
Now, then, is the very heart of the controversy. Judge Gary thinks that the trouble came from outside his steel plants and steel towns. Mr. Compas thinks the trouble is inside them. Judge Gary thinks the trouble is imported into Gary from Washington, where the American Federation of Labor has its headquarters, or from Russia. Mr. Compas thinks the trouble is in Gary itself.

The premises suggested follow hard upon the convictions of each group. Judge Gary—and to a large extent the entire employer class in America—believes that if somehow "outside agitators," "revolutionaries," "alien agitators" could be quieted, all the trouble would speedily disappear. So we see just now in America a number of extraordinary dispositions of the courts.

Mr. Compas, upon his part, is equally clear. He tells us that the workmen were not contented, that they were compelled to work unnecessarily long hours, that they were not allowed to organize or to have any voice in the determination of the conditions under which they lived, that they were not intimidated by "outside agitators" or "revolutionaries," but that they were suppressed by the employers.

URGES PETERS TO 'KEEPER'

Michael J. Reidy Is Hunting for Receipts to Show He Paid Poll Taxes

Michael J. Reidy of South Boston, who recently was called upon by Collector of Taxes Deland to pay poll taxes, has sent the following letter to Mayor Peters:

150,000 TAX DODGERS IN DEAR OLD BOSTON.
I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication of December 31, 1919, which reached me by way of the local newspaper.

Your thoroughly instructed counsel, Mr. Deland, declared in a statement to the press, that there are 150,000 tax dodgers in Boston, and he singled out Representative Thomas P. Joyce and myself as persons not worthy of the distinguished consideration of your regime.

Mr. Reidy has not paid his tax. From a mass of old papers I have been able to recover bills to show that, as joint tenant with my wife, I have paid a real estate tax of $10.00 in 1918, and $12.00 in 1919. I have also paid a tax of $10.00 in 1918, and $12.00 in 1919. I have also paid a tax of $10.00 in 1918, and $12.00 in 1919.

PRESIDENT MAY GARY TREATY

"Important Message," It Is Hinted, Is to Be an Appeal Against Compromise

Washington, Jan. 6.—The rumor persisted today that President Wilson was planning to urge the Democratic party to make ratification of the peace treaty without the creating of a "C" or the deterring of an "I" in its campaign lines.

Widened reference was given the report that this would be the burden of the important message the President would send to the Democratic dinner on Jackson Day (Thursday).

At the headquarters of the Democratic national committee it was said with no intimation as to the nature of the message that the President had received there.

The effect of the White House announcement that the President was

Wilson Says Wilson May Be Forced to Run for a Third Term

Chicago, Jan. 6.—President Wilson may yet decide to become a third-term candidate for the White House, according to J. Hamilton Lewis, ex-Senator from Illinois and former Democratic ally of the Senate.

Mr. Lewis, who is a member of the Senate, said that he had been told by a reliable source that President Wilson was considering a third-term campaign.

Wilson's decision to run for a third term would be a major event in American history. It would mean that the President would be serving for a total of nine years.

Inspiration for All in BOSTON'S MANY CHURCHES

Trinity Church

Temple Israel

Our visitor, Mr. Newcomer, investigates religious conditions here, and, concluding his investigations, decides that Boston is THE city to locate in.

Dear Randall:

You know I believe that a manufacturer should be much more interested than many of us are in religious conditions in the place where he is located.

The responsibility, honesty and personal interest in their work of your employees cut a big figure in your success, and the strength of religious influence in the community is a most important factor in creating these invaluable qualities. Every decent man, whether employer or employee, wants a clean, moral atmosphere in the place where he lives, and where churches are numerous and well-attended immorality is usually at its minimum and living conditions at their best.

Looking at it from this standpoint the religious situation here in Boston is very satisfactory. The city has about three hundred churches, representing nearly every denomination. The churches are well organized, in many cases well endowed and headed by clergymen of force and ability. A great amount of welfare and social uplift work is carried on among the poor of the city, and the facilities for taking care of the indigent, sick and infirm are many and excellent.

Boston boasts 65 hospitals and one of the greatest library systems in America, and devotes more land to recreation purposes than any other big city in the world.

Randall, I've made up my mind! I've investigated this city from every angle, and am convinced that NO PLACE IN THE COUNTRY OFFERS BETTER COMMERCIAL, INDUSTRIAL, FINANCIAL, SOCIAL, EDUCATIONAL AND RELIGIOUS ADVANTAGES THAN BOSTON.

A Dangerous Operation

It Is Possible to Transfuse Blood from a Healthy Man to a Sick Man to Such an Extent That, Although the Sick Man Does Not Recover, the Healthy Man Dies

In Vain the Net Is Spread in the Sight of Any Bird

On Wednesday last the American received information from the highest authoritative sources that Viscount Grey had visited this country in order to complete arrangements for a loan of from $13,000,000,000 to $15,000,000,000; and that, although Viscount Grey was keeping the matter secret, his mission had met with the approval of the Administration; and that the heads of the Federal Reserve banking system had been informed of this fact with the purpose of preparing them for the employment of this system in the securing of this astounding loan.

The American could have no doubt of the absolute accuracy of this story, considering its source, and the paper had prepared an article to be published Thursday morning, setting the loan at the smaller figure of the two—$13,000,000,000 instead of $15,000,000,000—in order to avoid all possibility of exaggerated statement in so important a story.

When this story was practically ready for the press there came into the office the statement of Sir George Paish, who had just arrived from England, in which he said that he was in this country to conclude negotiations for a loan "which would stagger the world."

This statement of Sir George Paish tended merely to confirm a story which was so authoritative as really to need no confirmation.

But Sir George Paish's statement was added as an English sidelight upon the facts which the American was printing.

Inasmuch as the effort had been earnestly made to keep all these negotiations secret, it was but natural that these revelations should have been at first denied by newspapers which were not in the same position to know as the American, and by certain individuals who were interested in not having the facts brought to light until all arrangements for the plan had been consummated.

But after the untimely newspapers had denied the story, Sir George Paish gave out to all the papers a long and detailed interview in which he declared that the loan required by the League of Nations as a whole was $35,000,000,000, of which $15,000,000,000 was demanded from the United States, in addition to certain other onerous and objectionable provisions which would have added still further to the burden of the United States.

Sir George Paish, not being anybody's pet, private prevaricator, told the plain truth, much to the consternation of some of Mr. Wilson's pet, private prevaricators who had sought to falsify the facts.

This is the truth, all the truth and nothing but the truth, and the American wishes to congratulate the people of the United States, first, that this outrageous plan, which we might almost call a plot, has been exposed.

Second, that there were people of high importance in our Government who were not so subservient to the Administration and its British propensities as to desire to see a proposition so injurious to the United States consummated, and who patriotically proceeded to make the facts known to the public.

Finally, and above all, we congratulate the American people that the League of Nations with its outrageous un-American covenants was not accepted by the Senate, and that the United States was not, therefore, put in a position where it would, more or less, have to submit to robbery of this kind, no matter how damaging it would be to our nation or how burdensome to our people.

We can never sufficiently thank the brave and patriotic Senators who stood out against this British League of Nations scheme and kept the United States free to go its own course, develop its own policies and resources, unhampered by European complications and burdens, of which this gigantic loan would have been only the beginning.

Of course, since the exposure of the plan to make the League of Nations responsible for the war debts of the Allies and to put the main weight of this formidable load on the United States, the British Government has made haste to deny that Sir George Paish has any OFFICIAL connection with it.

True enough, he hasn't. But everybody in the know does know that the British Government has REPEATEDLY employed the talents of Sir George Paish in "unofficially" doing official work, both before and since the war, and both in England and abroad, including an important financial mission to the former German Empire.

Sir George Paish came here with the full knowledge of the British Government, and with the British Government's full knowledge and approval and secret endorsement of his mission and his purpose to get—not thirteen, but FIFTEEN THOUSAND MILLION DOLLARS of our money.

The whole thing was to be done with as little noise as possible.

The ORIGINAL plan was to put this sinister scheme through in the Council of the League of Nations,

AFTER the United States had joined that Pious Plunderbund.

Mr. Wilson had assured the British and French governments that he could make the Senate ratify the treaty and league covenants just as he handed them to it, with no "i" crossed and no "j" dotted in opposition to his imperial desires.

They fully believed Mr. Wilson in London and Paris governmental and financial circles.

So they were to have waited till the United States was safely in the trap before beginning the plucking and skinning operation.

But Mr. Wilson had bragged too much of his power. He couldn't deliver the United States to the League.

And when this fact was at last realized by the expectant plunderbund, they also realized that they must adopt some other means to get American money by the shipload.

Exit, then, the League of Nations scheme and enter Viscount Grey, Sir William Tyrell and Sir George Paish, with a brand-new plan to get our dollars.

Grey and Tyrell went to work at Washington like moles—underground. Their business was to secure secret official co-operation. They got it, too—no matter what Mr. Wilson's pet prevaricators may say.

Sir George Paish was naturally rather hesitant about mentioning the amount of money he wanted Americans to pay. At first he would only say that the sum would be "staggering." But as to actual figures he was secretive. But at last he took a long breath and proceeded to "spill the beans."

What England really wants, he explained, is merely an issue of League of Nations bonds to the amount of thirty-five thousand million dollars, twenty billions to be subscribed for by the United States and England—the United States to pay for FIFTEEN BILLIONS of these bonds and England to pay for FIVE BILLIONS of these bonds, WITH THE OBLIGATIONS SHE ALREADY OWES THE UNITED STATES.

That is to say, the United States is to put fifteen billion real dollars into the pool, which a foreign council—in which the United States has ONLY ONE VOTE—can distribute as it pleases, and England is to put its FIVE BILLION DOLLAR DEBT TO THE UNITED STATES into the same pool, to be distributed the same way.

Now, what do you folks think of THAT for a charming exhibition of highway robbery without violence?

Then, when we have been put in the hole for TWENTY billions in that way, we are to indorse and GUARANTEE fifteen billions more of League of Nations bonds, which are to be allotted to other nations, and the buyers of which will have a second mortgage claim for principal and interest upon the United States Treasury, in case the other guarantors flunk or go bankrupt.

In other words, Grey and Paish and the American allies of the International Plunderbund were not only after thirteen billions of our money, as the American very moderately declared, but they were—and are still—directly and indirectly after twenty-two billions more—a total of thirty-five thousand million dollars.

No wonder Sir George Paish confessed that the sum he was after was "staggering."

It IS.

It is SO staggering that we feel quite certain he will stagger home without it.

The International Plunderbund will not get thirty-five billions or thirteen billions, or any billions of our public money.

The country is thoroughly aroused, and God help the Senator or Representative or Cabinet Minister or President who tries to put over such a gigantic robbery of the American people. It would be better for him if he had never been born.

In the meantime, the American REPEATS: Let us never forget the gratitude we owe to the brave and splendid Americans in the Senate who have thus far prevented the ratification of the League covenants.

Because anyone who has sense enough to put two and two together and find the right answer can now see that the League of Nations was the sentimental ambush behind which lurked the International Plunderbund, with their villainous scheme to make us Americans pay the cost of their criminal, brutal, bloody and devastating war.

Our escape from capture in that cunningly devised trap we owe, under Providence, solely to the Senators who so manfully stood up against the Czaristic ukases of the White House and the pressure of many perfectly good but wholly uninformed men and women, duped by the cunning and deceptive propaganda spread all over the country by foreign agencies and by some ignorant or corrupted American agencies.

Thank God for the sense and courage and patriotism of those Senators who stood fast in defence of our America!
